unicef usa

Every child, no matter where they live, deserves a safe and healthy childhood. UNICEF USA raises funds for UNICEF's work on child survival, child development, child protection and emergencies.

UNICEF IS EXPERIENCED

UNICEF has helped save more children's lives than any other humanitarian organization in the world. UNICEF has global reach, expertise, and the access and influence needed to get things accomplished in difficult places and emergency situations. UNICEF works for children in more than 190 countries and territories. Every year, UNICEF responds to more than 250 emergencies—from conflicts to natural disasters.

UNICEF IS RELENTLESS

UNICEF will do anything it takes to save a child, from providing hard-to-reach territories with life-saving supplies like food, water, and medicine to negotiating ceasefires so children can be vaccinated.

UNICEF WILL USE YOUR MONEY WISELY

UNICEF USA spends 88.9 cents of every dollar received on programs that help children, has an A rating on Charity Watch, and meets the Better Business Bureau's Wise Giving Alliance's Standards for Charity Accountability. Renowned philanthropist Bill Gates recently listed UNICEF in a piece he wrote for Time regarding his "4 Favorite Ways to Give Back."

unicef nextgen

UNICEF NextGen is a passionate group of young philanthropists, entrepreneurs and innovators in their 20s and 30s who commit their resources, networks, resolve and enthusiasm toward supporting UNICEF's lifesaving work. NextGen members study issues that affect children around the world and choose UNICEF projects to support through education, advocacy, skill sharing/remote volunteering, and fundraising. Through their philanthropy, members mobilize their networks and inspire the next generations to take action on behalf of the world's most vulnerable children.

Since 2009, UNICEF NextGen has raised over $9.7 million and supported 16 UNICEF projects around the world. The projects NextGen supports span the breadth of UNICEF's focus areas— from nutrition to child protection to maternal and neonatal health and more.

On the following page, you'll find a series of supported projects. For more information on each project, including the final impact reports, please visit www.unicefusa.org/nextgen.

NextGen

The ATL ART PARTY is hosted by UNICEF's network of emerging leaders, UNICEF Next Generation (NextGen) and features amazing local artwork donated by generous artists.

Alongside the art, there will be an open bar, DJs, and much more! All net proceeds from the event will benefit critical UNICEF programs impacting areas such as global nutrition, water sanitation, child protection, education, & healthcare.

ATL ART PARTY

Over the past four years, ATL ART PARTY has raised over $320,000 with the support of hundreds of local artists. The event has received coverage through numerous media outlets including Star 94 and the Atlanta Journal Constitution in addition to UNICEF NextGen's national social media channels.

Current Project:

WaSH: Water, Sanitation & Hygiene

WaSH is the collective term for Water, Sanitation and Hygiene. Water is life. But when water is unsafe and sanitation nonexistent, water can kill. Children under age 5 are, on average, 20 times more likely to die from diarrheal diseases associated with poor water, sanitation and hygiene than from violence in conflict.

UNICEF works in more than 100 countries to provide safe water and sanitation to the world's most vulnerable communities. Whether by delivering safe water after a disaster or promoting safe hygiene practices in schools and communities, UNICEF is on the ground helping children in need.

Since 2000, with the help of UNICEF and its partners, 1.4 billion people have gained access to basic drinking water services such as piped water into the home or a protected well. Yet climate change threatens to undo much of this progress. By 2040, 1 in 4 children - 600 million children - will live in areas of extremely high water stress, and thousands will be made sick by polluted water. The poorest, most disadvantaged children will suffer the most.
